

FRENZY OF FEVER.

Ex-Gov. Morehouse, of Missouri, Dies by His Own Hand.

In a Fit of Delirium He Cuts His Throat at His Home in Maryland—Brief.

The governor had for a week, at times, been in a delirious condition, which was believed to be caused by his becoming overheated one day last week while driving out. Tuesday morning he was found by his wife, Mrs. W. C. Ellison, thinking that the little drive would do him good. After arriving at her home, Mrs. Ellison noticed a violent nervous tremor on the part of the governor, manifested by the twitching of the muscles of the body. She held him tightly in the arms of the buggy, but Mr. Ellison made efforts to drive the governor's mind from his condition, but with no effect whatever. He at once concluded that it would be best to take him back to his residence and summon a physician, which was done after about fifteen minutes' ride. Mr. Ellison remained with the governor until about 10 o'clock at night, when S. W. Briggs and James Andrews arrived. As the governor's condition continued to be peaceful sleep and he was left in his room alone and undisturbed. The governor, at 10 o'clock, heard an unusual noise in the governor's room—a sound of falling. Hurrying into the room, they found the governor lying on the floor in a pool of blood, with a gash in his throat about four inches long, extending from two inches below the left ear to the larynx. As the watchers entered he breathed his last. In his right hand was a common pocketknife covered with blood. With this he had committed the deed.

The governor had closed the door to his room without attracting the attention of the watchers. He had taken off his coat and vest and carefully folded them and laid down on the floor in the middle of the room. Lying down with his head to the west, he used the coat and vest as a pillow. In this position he cut his throat.

On several occasions the governor was heard to say that he had a terrible headache, and once he told Mr. Briggs that if he had a shotgun he would stop that in short order. He also made several threats of jumping into the well. Last night every precaution was taken to prevent any suicidal action, but the plans were thwarted.

EX-GOV. MOREHOUSE'S CAREER.

Ex-Gov. Morehouse was born in Delaware county, O., July 18, 1835. He was therefore 65 years old at the time of his death. His parents were both natives of Ohio and his mother's parents were among the early settlers of the state. The early part of his life was spent on a farm and in gaining a substantial education. After finishing his schooling he branched out as a teacher, and at 18 years of age was one of the most successful instructors in his native county.

In 1856, his father, Judge Stephen Morehouse, moved with his family to Maryland county, Mo., where the family has since lived. The Morehouses settled at Maryville and young Albert began the study of law, teaching a school at the same time. Four years later he was admitted to the bar at Maryville.

He practiced law with moderate success for about a year, when he accepted an appointment as first lieutenant of Col. Kimball's regiment of enrolled Union militia. The commission he held but six months, when he returned to his study books at Maryville and resumed practice.

Politically, Mr. Morehouse figured very prominently since 1872, when he was a delegate from Missouri to the national democratic convention in Baltimore. In 1875 he was again a Missouri delegate to the national democratic convention, which was held at St. Louis. The same year he was elected representative from Nodaway county to the state legislature.

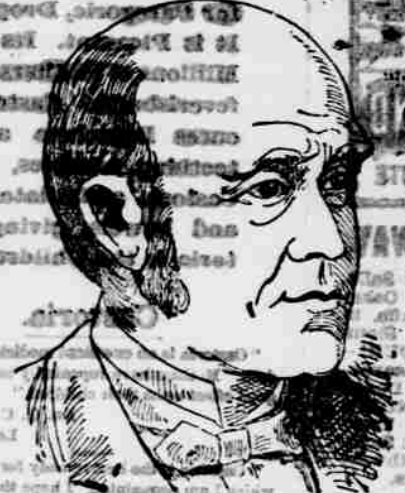

At the general election of 1884 Mr. Morehouse was elected lieutenant-governor of Missouri on the democratic ticket, on the same ticket the late John S. Marmaduke was elected governor. Gov. Marmaduke died suddenly and Lieut.-Gov. Morehouse succeeded him by virtue of his position. He was sworn into office December 23, 1887. At the general election in the fall of 1890 David R. Francis was elected governor to succeed Mr. Morehouse.

DR. BURCHARD DEAD.

His Long Career as a Pastor—The Words That Gave Him National Notoriety.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Rev. Dr. Samuel D. Burchard, of New York, who has been sick for nearly a week past, died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Burchard was born in New York, and was educated at the University of the City of New York. He was a member of the New York Theological Seminary, and was a pastor of the New York Theological Seminary for many years.

REV. SAMUEL D. BURCHARD.

benefit to his health he removed into Kentucky when 18 years of age and remained there as a student of Center college. He was graduated in 1856 and almost immediately afterward began to lecture without pay on religious subjects, temperance and opposition to slavery, supporting himself by the work of his hands. By this means he became known throughout the state. The young philanthropist removed to Danville during the first visitation of cholera, when it proved fatal to many persons of all classes. He nursed the sick and buried the dead, and most of the theological students residing there had died in terror.

After a course in theology at Danville, Mr. Burchard received a license to preach, granted him by the Transylvania presbytery in the year 1858. He was soon popular and received many calls, of which he preferred one to New York city, because it gave him the advantage of the Union Theological Seminary. His installation as pastor took place May 1, 1859. He was successful and highly popular and his congregation built a much larger church in 1860. This was burned down in 1855, together with the pastor's valuable library. In the same year a new edifice was raised where, several years ago, Dr. Burchard completed a pastorate of more than forty years' duration.

In 1861 he was appointed chaplain of the American church in Paris and in 1860 chancellor of Ingham university. He did not permit these honors to interfere with his relations to his people, by whom he stood notwithstanding his receipt of many flattering calls.

During the presidential campaign in 1854, when near its close, the country was profoundly startled by a remark made by Mr. Burchard, who was chosen as the spokesman of 600 clergymen who called to pay their respects to Mr. Blaine in New York. During his address he called the democratic party the party of "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion." This was at once scattered broadcast over the land and was thought to have acted injuriously to Mr. Blaine, especially in New York, where it was supposed several hundred votes were turned over to Mr. Cleveland and the state lost and consequently the presidency.

FRIGHTFUL EXPLOSION.

Awful Disaster to a Crowd of Rejoicing Italians—Eleven Persons Killed and Many Others Mangled by an Explosion.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 26.—Last evening the Italian quarter was decorated and brilliantly lighted in honor of St. Rocco's day, and many fireworks were exploded. A large crowd was assembled when a big bomb mortar suddenly exploded. The havoc was frightful. Hands, legs and arms were torn off. Eleven persons were killed outright, and twenty-eight were injured, many having arms and legs torn off.

A big copper casing mortar was used for the bombs. These were filled with colored fire and shot in the air where they burst, throwing out a shower of vari-colored sparks. It was this mortar that exploded and caused all the harm. The bomb casing was about five inches in diameter and thirty inches long.

About 11 p. m. a large bomb was put in the mortar and lighted. It is supposed that the bomb exploded in it. There were hundreds of men, women and children standing around watching with great expectancy. When it exploded the air was filled with the shrieks of the injured and dying. Intense confusion followed.

The explosion is supposed to be due to an overcharge of powder. Rumors were abroad that there had been dynamite in the bomb, but this is denied. There is a city ordinance forbidding the display of fireworks except on legal holidays and at military reviews, but the superintendent of the fire department granted the permit for the fatal exhibition.

McCarthy and Warren Arrested.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26.—The prize fighting matter has taken a new turn. The grand jury virtually abandoned the indictments against Tommy Warren and Cal McCarthy for training for a fight, and indicted them for engaging in the fight. The men were again arrested and furnished bond. The trial will take place next Tuesday. The Olympic club is keeping the men here at its expense, has engaged counsel and expects an easy victory, especially as the best of order was preserved. The city attorney has given an opinion that the contests were legal and the mayor gave the permit for the affair.

ST. LOUIS SCORCHED.

Two Buildings Consumed—The Fire Spread to the Warehouse of the Plant Milling Co.—Brief.

St. Louis, Sept. 26.—A fire broke out at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and spread to the warehouse of the Plant Milling Co. The fire spread to the warehouse of the Plant Milling Co. The fire spread to the warehouse of the Plant Milling Co.

The cause of the fire is unknown. The fire spread to the warehouse of the Plant Milling Co. The fire spread to the warehouse of the Plant Milling Co. The fire spread to the warehouse of the Plant Milling Co.

George P. Plant, the president of the company, places the loss at $250,000, with insurance about the same. The original Plant Milling Co. was established in 1851 and the company is one of the best known in the country. The mills will be rebuilt.

About 5 o'clock, and shortly after the Plant mill fire had been got under control, an alarm of fire was sounded from Ninth and Spruce streets, the location of the warehouse of the Mansur-Tibbets Agricultural Implement Co. A fire had started in a small one-story wooden building on the corner, and in a few moments the flames had extended to the six-story building of Mansur-Tibbets. This structure was entirely new, was built on the slow combustion principle and was thought capable of withstanding any kind of a fire. It was filled from basement to roof with all kinds of farm implements, wagons, etc., and the fire took hold of them as though they had been of paper, and in less than half an hour the entire building was a mass of flames.

The stock in the warehouse was valued at about $250,000 and was nearly if not quite covered by insurance in home and foreign companies. The building was owned by the Tiffany Real Estate Co., valued at $150,000 and insured for $100,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

RAIN SHOOTERS REJOICE.

Ticked With a Shower After Bombarding the Sky.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Sept. 25.—Saturday the rain makers made their first experiment here and it was a complete success. Broken cumulus clouds had been floating overhead all the morning and at 6 o'clock in the afternoon Messrs. Ellis, Castor and Fairchild drove out of town, accompanied by County Engineer Gunter, who represented the citizens' committee. The party carried two boxes containing two mortars and a dozen twenty-one pound bombs. When the outskirts of the town were reached the mortars were unpacked and set upon a small hill. Three rounds were fired, four shells being exploded at each volley, while broken clouds were passing overhead.

No rain was falling anywhere in the vicinity when the firing was begun, but after every report a sharp shower fell, and as the clouds passed away to the southwest the rain was seen to be falling in torrents over a limited area. By the time the last shot was fired the party were drenched and returned to the hotel. The rain could be seen spreading off to the southwest, and in forty minutes a heavy rain was falling, which was general over the entire city and continued for half an hour.

AN ATTACK ON GOULD.

The Wall Street News Calls For the Boycotting of His Securities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Wall Street News calls editorially: "If the New York stock exchange desired to emphasize its position as a conservative body of business men it could with advantage to itself and to the public, on whose patronage its members rely, strike the tainted securities which bear the Gould trade mark from its list. The statements which made their appearance yesterday in regard to the probable passage of the next quarterly dividend on the stock of the Missouri Pacific would furnish ample justification for such a step."

"We can safely say that greater misuse of corporate power, apparently for the purpose of influencing speculation, has never been witnessed since Wall street existed, even since Mr. Gould himself first became a destructive agency in it. The matter is so plain that he who runs may read it, as though it was placarded through the streets. That it will check the influence of the development of the prosperity through the country on the speculative market, we do not believe. But its unsettling influence for the time being is real and might be even more severe, but for the universal disgust which the employment of such unscrupulous tactics has aroused."

Iowa Crops.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 26.—The Iowa weather and crop service issued to-day the last bulletin of the season. It reports daily average temperature of past week 104 degrees above the normal with small amount of rain. Corn is practically secure and not more than usual will be soft and chaffy. The acreage in Iowa has probably been overestimated, and the amount planted reduced 5 to 10 per cent by food, storms, cut-worms, etc. But allowing for all drawbacks, the state will produce 600,000,000 bushels of corn. The state has raised 150,000,000 bushels of oats and 20,000,000 bushels of potatoes.

BURDETTE'S JOKE.

It Was a Very Practical, But Not Less a Funny One—The Minister's Joke, of Which Burdette Was the Unfortunate Victim—Brief.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, and effective. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

"August Flower"

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was weak that I could not work. Finally, on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations, a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES R. DEDERICK, Saugerties, New York.

W. B. Utsey, St. George's, S. C., writes: I have used your August Flower for Dyspepsia and find it an excellent remedy.
